DETAILED ACTION

112 Rejections Withdrawn

The rejection of claims 1-3 under 35 USC 112, second paragraph, outlined in the previous Office Action (Paper No. 8), has been overcome by applicant's amendment (Paper No. 10). With respect to claim 1, the amendment clarifies the claim language as appropriate. With respect to the dependent claims, the rejection is moot.

102 Rejections Withdrawn

The rejection of claims 1-3 under 35 USC 102(b), in so far as they read on the species defined in the previous Office Action, is withdrawn. As applicant correctly points out, the rejection was based upon an inadvertent factual misinterpretation of the instant claim limitations, specifically R<sub>1</sub>. The examiner regrets the error.

Allowable Subject Matter

The elected species and its obvious variant remain free of the prior art (Paper No. 8). The search was therefore expanded to include a single additional compound defined when: R<sub>1</sub>=benzoyl and Ar<sub>1</sub>= 2,4-diheptoxyphenyl. A rejection follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1621

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-3, in so far as they read on the species defined above, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 4,670,373, cited by the applicant in the IDS.

Art Unit: 1621

Applicant claims a compound when  $R_1$ =benzoyl and  $Ar_1$ = 2,4-diheptoxyphenyl.

US 4,670,373 teaches an adjacent homolog of applicant's compound (column 6 compound 23 – which has been explicitly excluded by proviso from the instant claims).

Adjacent homologs are considered to be obvious absent unexpected results. In re Henze, 85 USPQ 261, 263 (CCPA 1950).
